Explore recent judicial shifts reshaping standards of review for administrative decisions. The Canadian Supreme Court's 2024 rulings in Auer and TransAlta favor a reasonableness standard for subordinate legislation. In the U.S., Loper Bright marks a major change, as SCOTUS overturned Chevron, reducing deference to agency interpretations. Compare evolving review standards in Canada and the U.S., and gain practical strategies for appeals before CIPO, the Copyright Board, USPTO, and ITC.

The following IP Roundtables qualify for one hour of Ethics/Professionalism:

- CPATA
- Wellness in the Workplace
- Cultural Appropriation of IP
- AI in Practice Management
- Women in IP
